JOHNSON KEPT ON JUMP IN NEW YORK CAMPAIGN

Makes Nineteen Speeches in Winding Up Fight in City and State.

NEW YORK, November 2.—With ten meetings in upstate towns and cities and nine speeches in the city of New York, Gov. Hiram Johnson tonight closed his three-day tour of the state. The cities outside of New York to which he traveled in the "Roosevelt-Johnson moon special" were Cortland, Chenango, Forks, Oxford, Norwich, Sydney, Watkin, Liberty, Middletown, Goshen and Suffern.

The special train arrived in Jersey City after dark tonight, and the governor immediately jumped in an automobile and hurried to keep his Manhattan engagements. Although the night was extremely chilly, nearly all of the meetings were held outdoors. Large and enthusiastic crowds turned out, however, despite the cold wind.

"Nation Carried Ahead."

"Today every progressive in the land is standing on his toes and holding his head high in the air," the governor told his audiences. "We are going forward to meet the coming century. The state days we have been campaigning we have carried this nation ahead a quarter of a century."

"In the future no party will deal in the old platitudes and abstractions as has been the wont in the past. This new progressive party has made it necessary for all political organizations to recognize the fact that the first concern of any nation must be its men, its women, and its children."

"The moral victory of this great fight already is won and on next Tuesday another victory will be recorded. This victory will place Theodore Roosevelt back in the White House."

Mills Answers Question.

At the Middletown meeting today a man shouted to Benjamin Fay Mills, one of the progressive speakers who was talking from the rear of the train:

"Four years ago Teddy told us that Taft was all right, what about him now?"

"As a hired man he was all right," answered Mills, "but as a foreman he is a failure."

The speaker will rest here tomorrow and make his final speeches Monday in Providence, R. I., and Springfield, Mass.

ALL CLIMAX VICTORY

The Three Big Parties in Maryland Say State Is Theirs.

LEADERS GIVE STATEMENTS

Republicans, Democrats and Progressives Tell Why They Will Win.

GOV. GOLDSBOROUGH PRAISED

Even Opposition Party Admits He Has Taken Steps to See That Ballots Are Fair.

Special Dispatch to The Star. BALTIMORE, Md., November 2.—With the republican, democratic and progressive leaders all claiming victory Tuesday, the campaign in Maryland closed tonight with meetings in practically every county and all over Baltimore city. Here are the claims of the champions:

The republican state central committee: "The tremendous sentiment that has swung toward President Taft during the past few weeks has convinced the republican leaders that Maryland is safe for the ticket. The Taft sentiment has been apparent in the democratic ranks as well as among the republicans. We know that President Taft is away in the lead on the state republican vote. Thousands of democrats have also assured us that they will vote for him next Tuesday. The reports from every section of the state are coming in more and more encouraging."

Roosevelt will get some democratic votes and the democrats will get some republican votes. The republican strength without injuring Taft. Republican votes for Roosevelt only count as half votes for Wilson. While democratic votes for Taft reduce materially Wilson's strength and pile up Taft's vote. I am convinced that the people of this state are too much alive to the danger of a democratic administration ending the present prosperous times to do anything but vote for Taft and his aid in his re-election. With three candidates in the field, it is most unlikely that any of them will get a majority and the state will have to be registered on a plurality. I am convinced that Taft will get that plurality in the state."

Expect to Carry Baltimore City.

Chairman John J. Hanson of the republican city committee:

"The republican city committee has conducted a clean, dignified and aggressive campaign. We have not indulged in personalities. We have made the campaign on a record of achievement and policies executed, which have benefited the people of the city, and which, if repeated, will insure the continuation of our present national prosperity. I do not believe the American people can possibly be influenced by the candidates and parties calling one another liars and thieves."

"We have attempted to keep away from this phase of the campaign, and to conduct a campaign of education. I am convinced that the employers and workers, realizing the protection that has been given invested capital by the national administration, will decide next Tuesday that a continuation of this protection can best be brought about by the re-election of President Taft."

Believing this, I am confident that the employers and workers will stand shoulder to shoulder next Tuesday and send President Taft back to the White House. We have made substantial gains in Baltimore city during the past two weeks, and I believe that Taft's plurality here will be not less than 2,000."

Claims Maryland for Roosevelt.

Chairman Edward C. Carrington, Jr., of the progressive party:

"Yesterday I claimed Maryland for Roosevelt by 6,000 plurality. Now I am convinced that he will carry it by even a thousand more. Roosevelt will be elected. Taft will get 10,000 votes in Maryland from conservative democrats who label themselves democrats in local elections, but who fear a democratic administration. They always support the republican nominee when there is a possibility of a democratic being elected. Roosevelt will get from 15 to 25 per cent of the vote in Maryland. This will cut Wilson's vote in Maryland down to about 30,000."

The rank and file of the democratic party are at heart for protection. They remember the hard times and low wages of Cleveland's administration. They are now going to vote for a candidate who believes in protection and who can beat Wilson. That man is Roosevelt. From 70 to 80 per cent of the republican party in the state will vote for Roosevelt. This will give Roosevelt a good plurality in Maryland. This is the sentiment that is found in the north, west and far west, and will mean Roosevelt's election. Taft will lose Maryland to Roosevelt in the state, with the possible exception of the city of Baltimore. Taft to Taft, but he will carry no other state. In Connecticut Debs will beat him by from 15,000 to 20,000 plurality."

Chairman Alfred J. Morgan of the progressive city committee:

"Roosevelt will carry Baltimore city by a comfortable plurality. Nobody knows just how great his plurality will be, but we are convinced that he will win here."

Wilson Will Win, Say Democrats.

Chairman Murray Vandiver of the democratic state central committee:

"According to the reports we have been receiving during the past few days, Gov. Wilson's majority in Maryland will be not less than 5,000. I am confident that his plurality will be around 25,000. The state is entirely safe for Wilson, and Baltimore city will also give him a majority."

Machine Hard at Work.

The democrats of the organization have been working hard during the week and are making up the loss of working for Wilson, even if they do not deliver the "ring" vote Tuesday. The machine leaders are in a corner, because they know that should Wilson fail to carry the state the Wilson leaders will place the blame upon the machine. And they also know that these same progressive democrats will square accounts with the ring one year hence, when a United States senator and the legislature is at stake. It is the first time in the history of Maryland politics that the organization has found itself compelled to work for the old-time enemy—the silk-stocking independent element of the party."

The indications tonight are that Representative Covington (dem.) will win in the first district, Talbot (dem.) in the second, König (dem.) in the third, Parra (rep.) in the fourth, Parra (rep.) in the fifth and Lewis (dem.) in the sixth. There is a possibility that the democrats may carry the fifth district, also, because it is feared that the bull moose adherents will cut Parra. Prince Georges county is in bad shape for the republicans, because of the large sentiment for Roosevelt, and on this the democrats are banking hopes of pulling Frank Smith across a winner.

Governor Watches Ballots.

Gov. Goldsborough, though campaigning in Wicomico county today, is keeping in close touch with the ballot situation throughout the state. Today he notified the election supervisors of Wicomico county that the ballots there must be changed so that the electors will not be split. Democratic state headquarters received a verification of this order this afternoon through the Secretary of State, Graham, in Annapolis.

One of the governor's party also notified political leaders in Baltimore this afternoon of the report that the election supervisors of Wicomico county had found flaws in their ballots, and that these are to be reprinted at once. The election law provides that the ballots must be printed a certain number of days before the election takes place, but it is generally conceded that this phase of the law can be disobeyed in the effort to have proper ballots.

Another report heard here this afternoon was that the election officials in Worcester county had arranged the ballot so that eight blank lines head the first column on the ticket. These blank lines are placed on the ticket to permit the voters to vote for independent candidates. If this arrangement is illegal the Worcester ballots will also have to be reprinted.

Several democratic leaders conceded this afternoon that there was no real ground for complaint regarding any of the ballots except in Frederick. They have been forced to concede that the governor's earlier promises to have fair ballots have been carried out by the chief executive to the fullest extent of his ability.

Two Officials in Washington.

At the close of the political campaign tomorrow night, Secretary Fisher of the Interior Department will be the only cabinet officer in Washington. The Secretary will be "sitting on the lid" over election day, principally for the reason that his long trip to Hawaii prevented him from registering in his home ward in Chicago and therefore he is deprived of his vote.

His inability to vote the republican ticket is being shared by Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who, while campaigning several weeks earlier, promises to have fair ballots have been carried out by the chief executive to the fullest extent of his ability.

Two Officials in Washington.

The close of the campaign finds Washington practically deserted by all high government officials. President Taft, after voting in Cincinnati, will not return to the capital until next Thursday. Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen Taft, who are at the Manhattan Hotel in New York for a few days on their campaign in Washington, will hear the returns in that city. Robert Taft, the President's eldest son, will hear them at Harvard, and Charles Taft, his younger son, will hear them at Horace Taft's school in Connecticut.

Where Others Will Vote.

Carmel Thompson, President Taft's secretary, after his speaking tour in Ohio, will cast his ballot at his old home, Ironton, and Lewis L. Laylin, assistant secretary of the Interior at Columbus, will cast his ballot at his home in Ohio. Assistant Secretary Allen of the Treasury Department has gone to Vermont to vote and Assistant Secretary Curtis will vote in Boston.

That part of official Washington which does not vote remains in the attitude of an interested spectator. Government departments always are partially depleted on election day. Virtually all members of Congress are out of Washington. Most of them have been in their home districts looking after their fences during the campaign.

There is no national headquarters of any party in Washington, and, with practically all officials out of the city, old observers predict the coming election day will be quiet.

WILSON NOT DOUBT OF ELECTION VERDICT

Democratic Candidate Points Out Issues Before Voters of the Country.

NEW YORK, November 2.—The following statement by Gov. Wilson, democratic candidate for the presidency, was issued today through the headquarters of the national committee:

"The issue is now clearly made up and goes to the people. I, for one, do not doubt the verdict. The voters must take one or another of the three choices."

Voters' First Choice.

"First, intrust the government to the regular republican party again, which always begins a campaign with promises of action and then always, at the end, draws back and warns against change, dreading to attempt anything at all for fear it should not satisfy those who control the party. This is the republican party's first choice."

"Second, place the government in the hands of the hands of men who are searching about for some new way in which to perform old duties, all along plain and imperative, which can easily be performed without the invention of new methods—for example, without shifting the whole energy and initiative of the law to the executive branch of the government."

The Third Alternative.

"Third, go forward, without postponement or experiment or confusion, to effect the reforms which the whole country waits for and which all parties profess to believe necessary, through the instrumentality of a great established and undivided party, clear and explicit as to its purposes; willing to effect them by the ordinary process of legislation; willing to be guided by the common council of the nation as a whole, the plain people with the rest; regardless of every interest, party, or personal ambition. This is the democratic party's second choice."

"The mere statement of the choices is a prediction. We shall trust ourselves and let the little groups of discoverers who would have us vest our powers in them learn, in their turn and at their leisure, to trust us also."

TUTTLE'S COMET SOON DUE.

Will Reappear in January After Absence of Years.

Tuttle's periodic comet is due at perihelion early in January 1913, after an absence of thirteen and a half years. This comet was first discovered by H. P. Tuttle, U. S. N., in 1858, and last observed in 1890, though faint because of its distance from the earth. This year, in December, it will pass comparatively near the earth, so that it ought to be easily found.

Astronomers at the United States Naval Observatory are much interested in the return of this comet, inasmuch as it was discovered by Mr. Tuttle, who was then a member of the observatory staff, though long since retired from active astronomical work.

It is stated that the Tuttle comet will be seen by the naked eye on December 10, at its nearest approach, if the calculations are correct. It will be about 17,000,000 miles from the earth.

Echoes of the Balkan war are being heard at the Post Office Department. Postmaster General Hitchcock has been officially advised that the exchange of closed mails and the money order and postal note service between Turkey and the one side and Serbia and Bulgaria on the other side have been discontinued.

He adds that the postal administration of Turkey has announced through the Turkish Legation in London that on October 10, that the exchange of mails and the parcels post service between Turkey and the one side and Serbia and Bulgaria on the other side have been discontinued.

The democratic leaders are desperate in fear of defeat, and I believe we are going to give the democratic party the first Waterloo in Oklahoma. All the old soldiers
